

Dear trade professional

We are pleased to introduce you to an exclusive trade program created specifically with your business in mind. The idea behind our "Trade Benefits" program is simply to provide you with all the right resources so that you can do your job efficiently, economically and of course, beautiful. Here are a few ways you will benefit:

Save time and money

Meletio Lighting and Electrical Supply is a one-stop shop for great lighting and endless ideas. Be inspired by our showrooms filled with the latest trends in lighting and hottest home accessories. Our broad selection will help you meet the needs of even your most demanding clients. Plus, we expand your choices through our special-order program. Best of all, we offer great value on the products you want.

Meletio at your Service

Our knowledgeable associates are at your service to help with information, orders and ideas. Should you need it, design and installation services are available to assist with projects both large and small.

Enjoy exclusive program Benefits

You get special treatment to help make your job easier. For example, use Meletio as your design resource center. A special library is set up for you to work on projects or to meet with clients. The library allows you to conduct business while you are at Meletio. Rather than running back and forth to your office, you may use the library for gathering products, reviewing samples or catalogs, doing research and working with clients. A telephone, PC and printer are available for your use. If you are looking for new clients, don't miss the opportunity to market your business.

Networking Events

Meletio Lighting & Electrical Supply offers training classes, product demos, trend information, and networking events for you and your clients.
